

UNDERFACTION

Meaning: Underfaction refers to a deficiency or inadequacy in a particular group or faction, often resulting in ineffective leadership or insufficient response in biological contexts.

1. The underfaction of the company's leadership led to confusion among the employees.
2. In biology, underfaction can result in insufficient response to stimuli in certain organisms.
3. The committee's decision was criticized for its underfaction, lacking the necessary support to implement changes.
4. Many argue that the underfaction of the policy has hindered progress in environmental conservation.
5. Her underfaction in the project was evident, as key tasks were left incomplete and unaddressed.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/underfaction>