

UNDERWORKER

Meaning: An underworker is an individual who contributes less than their full capacity or potential in a work setting, often feeling undervalued or overlooked.

1. An underworker might struggle to showcase their full potential in a team environment.
2. In many companies, an underworker can feel overlooked and undervalued despite their contributions.
3. The management team implemented new strategies to support underworkers and enhance overall productivity.
4. Recognizing an underworker's skills can lead to better job satisfaction and improved performance.
5. To address the issue of underworkers, the organization launched a mentorship program to foster growth.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/underworker>