

UNHUMANIZE

Meaning: Unhumanize: to deprive individuals of their human qualities or dignity, often by treating them as objects or statistics rather than as human beings.

1. The constant barrage of negative news can unhumanize individuals and reduce them to mere statistics.
2. In an effort to improve efficiency, the company's policies began to unhumanize workers, prioritizing profits over their well-being.
3. Critics argue that the dehumanizing language used in debates can unhumanize entire communities and foster division.
4. When we fail to see the personal stories behind the data, we risk allowing our society to unhumanize those affected by crises.
5. The use of technology in surveillance can unhumanize our interactions, turning relationships into mere transactions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/unhumanize>