UNPAY

Meaning: Unpay (verb): to fail to fulfill a financial obligation or payment.

1. The landlord threatened to evict the tenants for their failure to pay rent, leaving them feeling anxious about the consequences of their unpaid bills.

2. After months of struggling to make ends meet, she finally found herself in a position where she could no longer afford to pay, leading to an unpaid credit card balance.

3. The company reported a significant loss this quarter, largely due to the increase in unpaid invoices from several key clients.

4. Despite multiple reminders, he remained indifferent to his unpaid parking tickets, which eventually resulted in a hefty fine.

5. The charity was concerned about the unpaid donations, which would impact their ability to support those in need during the upcoming winter months.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/unpay