

UNPOLISH

Meaning: To unpolish means to remove a smooth or refined finish from an object or to reveal unrefined, authentic qualities in a person or situation.

1. The artist chose to unpolish the surface of the sculpture to give it a more rustic appearance.
2. Her raw emotions began to unpolish the carefully curated facade she had maintained for years.
3. In an effort to make the film feel more authentic, the director decided to unpolish the cinematography.
4. The unpolished nature of his speech revealed his genuine passion for the subject matter.
5. Sometimes, the best stories are those that unpolish the glamorous image of success, showing the struggles behind it.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/unpolish>