

UNREADY

Meaning: Unready means not prepared or lacking the necessary readiness for a particular task or event.

1. She felt unready for the big presentation despite weeks of preparation.
2. The athlete admitted to being unready for the competition after a long injury layoff.
3. His unready response to the surprise question revealed a lack of confidence.
4. The team was unready for the sudden change in strategy during the game.
5. As the deadline approached, she realized how unready she truly was for the project.
6. She felt completely unready for the job interview after only one night of preparation.
7. The team entered the competition unready, having underestimated their opponents' skills.
8. He realized he was emotionally unready to face the challenges of a new relationship.
9. After a long delay, the project was launched, but many members felt unready for the tight deadlines.
10. Despite their excitement, the students were unready for the level of difficulty in their advanced classes.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/unready>