

UNWORTH

Meaning: Unworth: lacking worth or value; feeling undeserving of respect or recognition.

1. Her constant negativity made me feel unworth of the respect I once commanded.
2. He believed that his efforts were unworth in a world that seemed to overlook kindness.
3. Despite her achievements, she often felt unworth of the praise she received from her peers.
4. The way he dismissed her ideas left her questioning if she was unworth of a voice in the discussion.
5. In moments of doubt, he struggled with the thought that he might be unworth of love and friendship.
6. He felt that the effort he put into the project was unworth given the lack of recognition.
7. Many people dismiss the idea as unworth, but its potential benefits should not be overlooked.
8. She realized that chasing after people who didn't appreciate her was unworth her time and energy.
9. The investment seemed unworth when compared to the potential risks involved.
10. In the end, he understood that some experiences are unworth the pain they cause.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/unworth>