

VACUOLATION

Meaning: Vacuolation is the formation or presence of vacuoles within cells, often indicating physiological changes or responses to environmental conditions.

1. Vacuolation in plant cells can indicate a response to environmental stress.
2. The scientist observed significant vacuolation in the tissue samples under the microscope.
3. Vacuolation is often associated with cellular processes such as storage and waste removal.
4. In her research, she focused on the role of vacuolation in regulating cell turgor pressure.
5. The presence of vacuoles and the degree of vacuolation can vary greatly between different species.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/vacuolation>