

VERNACULARIZATION

Meaning: Vernacularization is the process of adapting a language to align with local culture and usage, often resulting in the flourishing of indigenous languages.

1. The process of vernacularization has allowed many indigenous languages to thrive in modern society.
2. In linguistics, vernacularization refers to the adaptation of a language to better fit local culture and usage.
3. The vernacularization of academic texts made complex ideas more accessible to the general public.
4. As globalization increases, the vernacularization of popular media becomes more evident in diverse communities.
5. Scholars argue that the vernacularization of religious texts can lead to a deeper understanding of faith among followers.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/vernacularization>