WARWORN

Meaning: Warworn refers to being damaged or affected by the ravages of war, whether in a physical sense, like a place, or in a psychological sense, like a person's spirit.

1. The warworn village stood as a haunting reminder of the conflict that had once ravaged its streets.

2. Her warworn spirit, shaped by years of struggle, inspired others to rise above their own challenges.

3. He returned home, his warworn face etched with the memories of battles fought and friends lost.

4. The soldiers, though warworn, marched on with a sense of duty and resilience that defined their character.

5. In the warworn landscape, nature slowly began to reclaim its territory from the scars of human conflict.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/warworn