

WHITEWASH

Meaning: Whitewash (verb): to cover up or gloss over undesirable facts or actions in order to present a more favorable image.

1. The company attempted to whitewash its unethical practices by promoting a new charitable initiative.
2. Critics accused the documentary of whitewashing history by omitting key events that shaped the narrative.
3. She decided to whitewash the fence, giving it a fresh look for the upcoming summer party.
4. The politician's speech was criticized as a whitewash, failing to address the real issues facing the community.
5. After the scandal, the team's management tried to whitewash their reputation with a series of public relations campaigns.
6. The company tried to whitewash its financial troubles by releasing optimistic reports.
7. After the scandal, the politician's team attempted to whitewash his past mistakes with a public relations campaign.
8. The teacher decided to whitewash the negative behavior of a few students to maintain class harmony.
9. In an effort to whitewash the city's reputation, officials showcased only the positive developments in their annual report.
10. Critics accused the documentary of trying to whitewash the complex history of the region.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/whitewash>