

WIND-SUCKER

Meaning: A wind-sucker is a playful term for a person, often a child, who makes a sound by blowing air through their lips, or in botany, it refers to a plant that depends on wind for seed dispersal.

1. The child was playfully called a wind-sucker for his habit of blowing air through his lips.
2. In the world of botany, the term "wind-sucker" refers to a plant that relies on wind for seed dispersal.
3. He was teased for being a wind-sucker whenever he exaggerated his stories to impress his friends.
4. The old car had a reputation as a wind-sucker, consuming more fuel than any of its counterparts.
5. During the storm, the wind-sucker's relentless gusts rattled the windows and sent debris flying.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/wind-sucker>