

WINDWARD

Meaning: Windward refers to the side or direction from which the wind is blowing, typically the upwind side of an object or area.

1. The sailboat adjusted its course to catch the breeze coming from the windward side of the island.
2. As we hiked up the mountain, we felt the cool air on the windward slope rejuvenate our spirits.
3. The windward side of the hill was lush and green, thanks to the moisture brought by the prevailing winds.
4. Birds often nest on the windward cliffs, where they are shielded from harsh weather conditions.
5. To maximize their sailing efficiency, the crew focused on navigating toward the windward direction.
6. The sailboat glided gracefully along the windward side of the island.
7. When climbing the mountain, we made sure to stay on the windward slope to avoid the harsh gusts.
8. The windward side of the hill was lush and green, while the leeward side remained dry and barren.
9. Navigators often prefer to set their course on a windward tack for a smoother journey.
10. As the storm approached, we quickly moved to the windward edge of the cove for better shelter.
11. The sailboat tilted gracefully as it navigated the windward side of the island.
12. On a clear day, the windward slopes of the mountain were perfect for paragliding.
13. Birdwatchers often gather on the windward side of the forest to spot rare species.
14. The storm clouds loomed heavily over the windward coast, signaling an impending downpour.
15. In sailing, understanding the concept of windward is crucial for making effective maneuvers.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/windward>