

WISH-WASH

Meaning: Wish-wash refers to vague, insincere, or insubstantial statements or promises that lack concrete substance or clarity.

1. The politician's promises were nothing but wish-wash, lacking any real substance.
2. After reviewing the proposal, I realized it was filled with wish-wash and didn't address the key issues.
3. Her wish-wash response to the critical questions left the audience more confused than informed.
4. Instead of a clear plan, his presentation was full of wish-wash that failed to inspire confidence.
5. The committee dismissed the idea as wish-wash, insisting they needed a more concrete plan.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/wish-wash>