

WITHER-WRUNG

Meaning: Wither-wrung refers to a state of being shriveled, twisted, or lifeless due to lack of water or harsh conditions.

1. The old tree stood wither-wrung, its branches gnarled and lifeless.
2. After the drought, the garden appeared wither-wrung, flowers drooping under the harsh sun.
3. His once vibrant spirit seemed wither-wrung, burdened by years of hardship.
4. The landscape was wither-wrung, a testament to the relentless passage of time.
5. Memories of happier days left her feeling wither-wrung and desolate.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/wither-wrung>